Thousand Red Cross Head Asserts Destitute

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. (AP)-Whisperings of discord which have accompanied the effort to raise a $5,000,000 relief fund for Florida storm sufferers culminated today in a flat charge by John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross, that Florida officials and real-estate men had "practically destroyed" the campaign by repeated attempts to belittle reports of damage and suffering Despite these efforts, which were attributed to Gov. Martin, Mayor E. C. Routh of Miami and others, Chairman Payne said he felt duty bound to carry on the drive for funds and appealed to the intry to continue to help. A little more than $3,000,000 has been collected.

The Regular Army this is a deficit under ourrent to the service of the efforts to minimise the storm losses, Mr. Payne asserted that Red Cross officials in Plorids had reported the greatest need for relief since the San Franching the signs had been a service that the San Franching the signs had been a service that the San Franching the signs had been a service that the San Franching the signs had been a service that the San Franching the signs had been a service free listing 5000 homes as totally destroyed and 18,000 families poverty-stricken.

Delegates Say Russia Has Contributed $750,000

OSTEND (Belgium) Oct. 1. (P)-Re using the request of the British on the continent, the moderate ele coal diggers today won a victory over tional miners' conference.

Most of the continental delegates were firmly resolved against a general stoppage in their industry. They said they were perfectly willing to contribute all they can in order to lend financial aid to the British strikers and do all that is possible to prevent the exportation of coal into England. At the same time, they added, they were unwilling to lay down their picks and shovels and give up their pown means of livelihood in order to help the British miners attain victory in their long struggle.

BUSSIA MAIN SUPPORT the British miners. American miners, thus far, have contributed $50,000. Reports were in circulation today that the radical element at the conterence intended to oust Frank Hodges from his position as secretary of the International Miners' Federation and to give the post to A. J. Cook, secretary of the British Miners' Federation.

Some of the delegates to the conference with a tasts for fish have been unable to satisfy it because the Ostrad fishing fleet of late has found it more profitable to carry coals to New Castle and other British ports than to so fishing.

to be that the shooting club had allowed "unnecessary flow" of artesian wells upon their preserves.

The complaint filed against the sheoting club charges, among other things, that it permitted unnecessary flow "and" waste of water. The law defines waste and exempts any beneficial use of the water from being classed as waste.

In his query Wettlin had not referred to waste of water, but stressed the unnecessary-flow angle, upon which the prosecution is said to be makely depending for its case. The State, it is said, will contend that, regardless of whether the gun club used its artesian water for a beneficial purpose, it used an unnecessary amount and, therefore, violated the law.

Across Pacific" Tells of Philippines

Monte Blue, Myrna Loy and Others Effective

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT inal wind-up with men swi across swampy rivers, and crawling flat on their stomachs through tropi-cal rain and mud and underbrush.

That's what you will see in "Across the Pacific," It's a story of the days when the volunteers lined up against aguinaldo's insurrection in the Philpines and fought a fight that in its ay was perhaps unrivaled in his-way was pernaja unrivated in instory.

"Across the Pacific" opened to an enthusiastic audience last evening at the Uptown Theater. It evoked applauss, and cries of delight, particularly from the youngaters during its screening, appearing to make a big hit with the first-night throng.

The premiere was the initial one to be held at the Uptown Theater. Heretofore this house, located at Western avenue and Tenth street, has provided only second-run pictures.

The start of the new policy (which comprises, beside the showing of a new feature picture, a concert by a semi-symphonic orchestra) was more than auspicious.

Montis Blus, who had the features role was all able to attend, oving the control of the control able impression as the girl, blonde wig and all. The role is coloriessly sweet but there are many moments when she jives it import through her performance.

Ace of Cade," which opened at the Metropolitan yesterday.

So much skill, in fact that I cannot help but wonder what will happen when the picture begins to weld its way through the cinematic provinces. There may be just a bit too much of I'. Arien, I fear.

Thus it is that while it is perhaps the most dominant thing Menjou has done on the screen and unquestionably the most interesting of the Arlen picturisations to date, it nevertheless shows little prospect of having a success that is widely popular.

For one thing, there is a soberness about the theme, despite the lack of sobriety in many of the scenes, that makes it somewhat dull fare for those who demand a liberal share of humor in their screen entertainment. An-who demand a liberal share of humor in their series intertainment. Another seemingly very essential quality—spectacular action—is not in evidence at any point.

Deficient as "The Ace of Ceds" is in these respects, however, I found enjoyment in every situation which presented itself—a few tedious moments excepted.

Menjou is revealed as a figure with more humanness about him than we have come to regard as possible from his delineations in the past. He is a sophisticate a debonair, fasticiously-poised man of the world, quite after the Menjou fashion. But in this he does not permit one to forget that he is atter all, a man. He instills a quality of pathos into the character that is gripping in its appeal and which has a lot to do with making the drama as somber I one as it is.

The Arien story is laid in England and is constructed around the prolonged separation of a pair of lowers. The separation results from the deceit of a third person, who works upon the well-known premise that one should not stop at ethics in times of love and war. And so he quite meatly cheats Menjou out of his sweetheart and marries her himself.

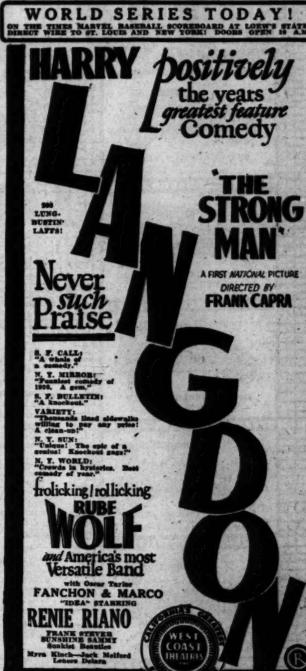

There follows a lapse of nineteen years. The husband has been killed in the war, leaving his widow and a daughter. Menjou, considerably aged since his last appearance, returns to London and the thread of the etory is resumed. He meets the daughter, feigns love for her, and is soon nicely embroiled in a series of situations even more forceful than those of his earlier years.

The plot works up to a tremendous climax at this juncture with a series of vividity effective scenes. Menjou's heroic lie in relating the story of the husband's duplicity, is a clever dramatic stroke.

Alice Joyce's portrayal of the wife is done with a fine degree of precision. She does her emotional work with nice repression and is a properly patrician figure throughout, although some might be prone to regard with surprise her youthful matronliness after the lappe of almost two decades.

SPEEDY LOYOLA GRID SOUAD FAVORED TO BEAT REDLANDS

Max Houser's brand new Rediands football team faces the Loyola College Lions on the local gridiron this afternoon in a contest that promises to be rough for the Buildogs. Loyola with the finest football aggregation ever to represent the college is a big favorite to send Houser's pigakin warriors home at the short end of the scorp.

As far as that much-discussed factor of weight is concerned, both squads will be light, but the speedy, driving attack of the Lions is expected to prove too much for Rediands' uninitiated team. Loyola has four horsemen, who are just as much Irish as the famous Knute Rockne brand of Notre Dame. Tunney, Lowry, Currin and Hoeffer are the four Loyola ball luggers of more than ordinary power.

The Lions have a fast and shifty attack, but the Buildogs also have several veterans back from last year, who are apt to furnish the Lions considerable opposition. "Sandy" McGilbra, quarterback and last year's captain, is expected to be the mainstay of the Buildog attack this year as he was last. A mean passer and clusive runner, the Indian star would be a shining light on any team in the Southern California conference. Ford, who played brilliantly at times last year despite a bad leg, is back, and may also prove to be a hard man to stop. Loyola's line appears to be a much better wall than Redlands, and that fact may decide the battle.

SCOREBOARD AT LOEW'S

The next best thing to actually watching the playing of the world's baseball series between the Tankees and Cardinals is to see it "played" on the marvelous scoreboard of The Times at Losw's State Theater. Every play is accurately recorded seball fan to get worked up to the "fever-heat" pitch. It is rabid baseball fan to get worked up to the "fever-heat" pitch. It is the most exciting and fascinating way to witness the classic without going sast. The doors of the theater will open this morning at 10 o'clock and the innings will be interspersed with amusement. Those who attend will be permitted to stay for the show featuring Harry Langdon in his greatest comedy vehicle "The Strong Man."

The Times will also have a scoreboard at The Times Cuilding. First and Broadway, and will broadcast the games, play by play, over EHJ, The Times radio, and with a battery of loud speakers at The strong Man.

Naturally, now that I am about to meet my old manager in a world series, and now that I too am a manager, many persons ask me what I think about Huggins as a manager. That might be embarrassing if I were asked that question about some managers. But I can be perfectly frank and honest about answering the question about Huggins. REATER in defeat than he ever was in victory. That is the nicest thing I heard about Jack Dempsey in reference to his dethronement by Gene Tunney. The gentlemen who said it were Messrs. Seth Strellinger and Charley Ryton. They said

Blake to supervise his work he can whip himself into shape to easily defeat Tunney.

Throw out the fight with Tunney altogether. It doesn't mean a thing, says kyton. "it was the worst fight of Jack's eareer. But it was all bunk about his crying after the fight, lie did nothing of the kind. I was in his quarters after the bout, and asked him what I could do for him.

"Send a telegram to my mother in Salt Lake City, please. Tell her that although I lost, not to worry. I am not hurt, and send her my love."

that he entered the ring sick as a cat.

Then in New York they have discovered Jack had "staphylo-cocle infection of the axilla" or left-arm pit, which is pointed to as a contributing cause for Dempsey's defeat.

All these things may be true, but revealment at this time won't bring back Dempsey's crown. I like Jack's attitude. He lost and that's all there is to it. Tunney put up a masterly boxing exhibition, and he deserves credit for figuring out a way to smash Dempsey's attack.

chicago, oct. 1.—The White Sox defeated the Cube today in the second game of the city series, 10 to 8, and evened the standing at the Cube park before 11,500 fans.

Behind the steady twirling of Ted Lyons and against the inferior flinging of Tony Kaufmann the Collins men had little trouble defeating their National League rivals.

Aside from the steady work of Lyons, who was given a long lead upon which to work and had nothing to worry him, the biggest individual thrill dispenser was Bib Paix, White Sox left fielder. He gave Kaufmann more trouble than anyone else, and single handed drove in more runs than anyone lese on the club. His homer in the sixth increased the lead of his team, and his terrific triple over Wilson's head in the seventh brought in the three runs that later proved the winners.

The Sox made fourteen blows for a total of twenty-three bases. They had a much better day in the field. The Cubs fought, too, but they did NEW YORK, Oct. 1. The cost of installation, in self to foot the bill to the extent of some $20,000 for the current consumed and to whom this is but a single item in his development program. The cost of installation, in the neighborhood of $50,000, is being met by the Midland Counties Public Service Corporation.

The property owner is H. J. Whitley. For two or three decades Mr. Whitley and been associated with the development of California.

The Corcoran project in Kings county, Hollywood and $7,000 acres in the Ban Fernando Valley including the thriving towns of Van Nuys. Reseda and Owensmouth are some of the developments with which he has been connected. He had reached an age when most men without a tithe of his achievement to their credit are content to sit in the chimney corner and talk of what they have done.

But H. J. Whitiey is not of that type. Five years ago he came to this county and purchased 30,000 acres of land from the great Sacramento and alfood acres from the Estrella Ranch. The whole 48,000 acres is contiguous and extends for miles along the Estrella River as well as along the Estrella River as well as along the Estrella River as well as along the highway as above noted. While some of it had been used for grain raising a large part of the tracta had been devoted to cattle range. The task of bringing such an area into line with modern conditions was such as might have appalled a group of much younger men. Mr. Whitley undertook it with the aid of only small corps of his own employees, some of whom have been with him for many years.

The results which have been obtained speak for themselves. Nearly the content of the many years.

Surprise Sprung in M'Pherson Case; Gilbert Denounces Keyes for 'Laying Persecution Basis'

Two surprise prosecution witnesses declared under oath Municipal Judge Blake's court yesterday that Kenneth G. Ormiston, fugitive Angelus Temple radio operator, was seen by them to enter a room at the Ambassador for which Mrs. McPherson had registered. This was about last Christmas week. Another testified that the evangelist was in the Clark Hotel on the morning of her disappearance at a time the defense asserts she was elsewhere. This was the second such assertion, a witness of the previous day having made the same statement, including the declaration that Ormiston followed

Two others avowed that Ormiston remained for the greater portion of a day at the Andrews Hotel in San Luis Obispo with a woman companion whom the State will contend was Mrs. McPherson.

The only silver lining for the evangelist in the clouds that prosecution forces heaped into the sky of evidence was the complete breaking down of one witness who admitted he did not believe he had seen Mrs. McPherson in an automobile registered to Ormiston near Santa Barbars during the time between her disappearance and reappearance.

DIATRIBE BY GILBERT

Just before the conclusion of yesterday's session, which was the fifth day of the hearing of the Four Square pastor on conspiracy charges, her chief counsel, W. I. Gilbert, hurled the charge in open court that Mrs. McPherson and her mother were called before the recently discharged grand jury, not for the purpose of obtaining information to capture her asserted kidnapers, but for the purpose of laying a foundation for the purpose of laying a foundation for the purpose of laying a foundation for the present prosecution.

The charge broke Mrs. McPherson's composure.

"Absolutely!" she cried out.
It came during the injection into the record of Mrs. Minnie Kennedy's testimony before the grand jury regarding Angelus Temple inancial anatters.

"Just a minute," said Gilbert. "If your Honor please, I am going to object to any further testimony unless it has something to do with the issues in this case."

"It does have," said Dep. Dist.—"The temple property, recently of-

Cooper Tells of Rules legarding Parking In Talk Over KHJ

Pire hydrant regulations yes-larday formed the topic of the daily traffic talk over KHJ in the series being conducted by deegt. Johnson of the police bureau of public safety. The talk was given by Officer Coop-er.

It was pointed out that it is illegal in Los Angeles to leave a car within fifteen feet of a fire hydrant unless attended by a person capable of operating it. In other parts of California it is illegal to have a vehicle standing within that distance of a fire hydrant, whether attended or not.

The owner of any vehicle which damages a fire hydrant must immediately notify the SELECTION EXPLAINED The volume's foreword explains that "Who's Who" names are se-lected not as the best but as the best-known. It contains 24,-915 names. The United States produced 89.56 per cent of the notables. The remainder were notables. The remainder were notables. The remainder were produced principally by England, Germany, Scotland, Ireland and Russia—in the order named.

A number of studies are in the volume, it is disclosed that 64 per cent of the nutables are college men. 25.9 per cent came from firms, 24.2 from cities between 8000 and 50,000. Business men fathers produced 35.3 per cent of the "best-known," processional men fathers 24.4 per cent, farmer fathers 24.4 per cent, skilled and semiskilled inthers four-tenths of 1 per cent.

The conclusion is reached that a very small class of men are producing a great proportion of the notables. Another conclusion is that farmers are producing one-fourth less than their share of "best-known" in proportion to population.

Thy You Should Go to Church

By Dr. Frank Dyer, Pastor Wilshire Boulevard Congregational Church

For psychological reasons: We all need marked mental changes. There are many people in Los Angeles who would get a bigger mental change by going to church, than in any other way I know. It is often urged that the church is so different—that is one of its greatest values. No preacher is fit to preach who does nothing but preach. Physicians, lawyers, actors—all need to get out of their

For spiritual reasons: Our fathers called the church the House of God. It is still that. It calls people out of human selfishness. We all need to hear that call. Your children reach higher levels if you bring them with you to the House of

My Dear Friends:
Tomorrow will be one of the great days in the history of our Church. After menths of careful planning, we are on the threshhold of a great development.
The name of one of God's mighty men, Dr. Gunsaulus, will be forever associated with the new unit now building.
We especially invite all who heard or knew Dr. Gunsaulus. We invite also all Congregationalists who can be spared. We want to see all our friends temorrow.
On Monday the Congregational Ministers and wives will come at 2:30.

Poland's Parliament still holds its regular session; but Parliament and Cabinet hold office at the pleasure of Marshai Pilsudski. The Bartel Cabinet resigned on Friday under an agreement with President Moscicki that the resignation would not be accepted and that a new election would be held. But Priday affarmant Pilster Pil. accepted and that a new election would be held. But Priday afternoon Dictator Pilsudaki decided that he didn't want to be bothered with a national election at this time. R naturally comes as something of a surprise to us to find writers of the different European countries taking the republic and monarchy. Equally surprising is the comment in a part of the Paris press on the Kemai regime in Turkey. One journal observes: "Without doubt there are in these manifestations of force some barbarty; but they are not without their beach. that if there had been less haste in the construction of many of the dwelling houses, office buildings and stores there would not have been half so much damage. The millions of loss is attributed to the fact that most of the structures destroyed or badly damaged were thrown together in such feverish precipitancy as to render them but poorly calculated to stand an emergency strain. Many of the houses were of the ramshackle order, put up in any old way to fill contracts that called for completion in the least possible time. Such work never is satisfactory. In building a house that is to shelter human beings proper care always must be taken, and one nail never should be made to serve the purpose of two.

Having tired of the cross-word puzzle, the Germans have taken to mathematics. Why is it, they are asking one another, that if you add together the year of one's birth, one's age, the year of marriage and the number of years married the result is always for everybody the same—3852? It is a game, however, at which spinsters cannot play.

Not only was Miami imperfectly protected against the shock of high wind, but its protection against flood was also inade-quate. If the city fathers had had in mind be made in good faith, if there can be good faith in the matter of bribery. The point is a fine one, not easy for a layman to understand, nor for a lawyer either, apparently, since the learned District Attorney and the learned Superior Court of Sar Diequate. If the city fathers had had in mind the lesson of Galveston they would have seen to it that breakwaters were constructed to prevent high tides flooding the streets and undermining buildings. Galveston learned its bitter lesson at the expense of 6000 lives and millions of property damage and deligration. The people about it?

CALF LOVE

Francis E. Clark, president of the World's Christian Endeavor Union, celebrated his fittleth wedding anniversary by telling young people "How to stay marriages. Just how early marriages and the seawall was nearly $8,000,000, but it was worth every penny of it in the process take place with long engagements was not worked out. He declared "calf love" is another problem.

Stood it.

One does not know, of course, what the Legislature had in mind in so wording this particular law, though it probably was the placing likely that the lawmaking body to place a statutory bar against bribe soliciting as well as aginst bribe offering and bribe taking. It seems unlikely that the lawmakers of the seawall was nearly $8,000,000, but it was worth every penny of it in the process take place with long engagements was not worked out. He declared "calf love" and the twenty-six years that have passed in the city legislation and to permit them to demand bribes with impunity.

COUNCILMANIC PRIVILEGES

C Another of the many points in which the criminal statutes of California need revising badly has been discovered by the Second District Court of Appeal, which has just held that, as the law stands at present, it is not a crime for a Councilman to solicit a bribe. The Councilman may solicit as many as he chooses, in perfect long will some fellows keep it going?

licit as many as he chooses, in perfect safety, until he meets some one who is willing to bribe him and he agrees to re-ceive a valuable consideration in exchange for his voté or influence. Not till then does he commit a grime. On the other hand, ordinary citizens are not so privi-leged. It is a crime for them merely to offer a bribe, regardless of whether it is accounted or not. Whenever I go to the mountains

The forests are dripping and offer a bribe, regardless of whether it is accepted or not.

This hitherto undiscovered perquisite of the Councilmanic office may appertain also to other public officers, but the court has not, as yet, said so. It is to be hoped that before it gets the opportunity the Legislature will have met and plugged the leak.

One supposes that courts must hew strictly to the line in the interpretation of the wording of statutes. There is no disposition here to criticise judicial officers who are without doubt actuated by the highest are without doubt actuated by the highest motives. But one might wish that it were not so easy for convicted criminals to go unwhipped of justice because somebody in the Legislature used a word or so too much.

Surplusage seems to be the defect in this particular statute. The court holds that, in addition to soliciting the bribe, an agreement to receive it must be shown, and an agreement requires the assent of more than one party. There must be a "meeting of minds"—in other words, the agreement must be a real one. Perhaps the court might hold also that the agreement must be made in good faith, if there can be good faith in the matter of bribery. The point

A Gry for Help
ROLLYWOOD, Sopt. 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] After reading the 'articles written by a "special correspondent" from Shanghai, China, regarding the terrible condition of Russian refugees there, I have not spent a common fortable moment and cannot keep quiet longer.

Nine thousand Russians, cultured men and women of the monarchy, of the old aristocracy, "delicately nurtured, with ne knowledge of hardahip or want and no sort of equipment with which to endure and rise superior to adversity," "at least half of whom have no permanent means of livelihood and the most of them living the life of the Chinese quarters, eating their food and having not enough even of that. Imagine their condition if you can. Imagine the lives of the little children without proper clothing, provisions and without education of any kind, running the street and scraping the guiters for a possible bit of food, like stray dogs or rats. It is appailing and too terrible-to think about unless we can help them.

With the Reds behind, driving them, here was nothing in front of them but the sea, and, therefore, they took to sea in a few small vessels and one ship finally landed at Shanghai, where it has been for three years. This vessel, the Okhotak, a former merchanima, a vessel of 1500 tons, lies just above the outlet of the Huangpu River, under the protection of a lone gunboat of the Chinese in the harbor, and on it are more than 100 Russians living under conditions that are unspeakable, their very existence being a mystery.

They desire to sell the vessel for the money it would give them.

their very existence being a mystery.

They desire to sell the vessel for the money it would give them, but they cannot do this, because the Chinese, who could use the boat, are atraid of the Reda, as they refuse to acknowledge their courts or laws and defy them all the time, and probably would kill anyone who bought this wassel in Shanghai. These people must have help. This vessel, which is the last of the merchant marine of old Russia—if bought by the American people as individuals and not as a nation—could not cause any international complications, could it, either with China or the soviets? The Russians of the old day, many of whom are living and prospering in America, should be appealed to and should be glad to help their fellow-countrymen.

Last year there the Shanghai Race Club, the only one to do anything for them at all, raised a fund amounting to less than 31500 (gold) and 2000 petitions, so ursent that they could not be denied, were taken care of and there was nothing left. As to the Canton affair, it has been proven beyond a question of a doubt that the British did not fire on the Cantonere until after they had been fired on by Russian or Chinese agitators, while they were watching a Chinese parade, during which firing several foreigners were shot.

There is a good deal of evidence in China to show that, while Russia may not be entirely responsible for all the present autiforeign agitation, she has a great deal to do in directing that agitation against the British. Russia has given considerable evidence of her intention to control or annex China. Already Russia has absolute control of Mongolia, a country that is potentially very rich, having many mines and great forests. The only active force that is keeping Russia in bounds today is the British Empire. Therefore, the reason that Russia is endeavoring to do evrything in her power to drive Great Britain out of China. Writers like Mr. Young seem to be doing everything in their power to achieve that end.

NEW GRAND JURY SWORN IN

John E. Marble of Pasadena Named as Foreman; Judge Cautions Inquisitors to Secrecy

With the selection of four more members by Presiding Judge Residin criminal division of the Superior Court, the organisation of the second 1926 grand jury was started yesterday. John E. Marbie, retired, 1818 Garfield avenue, South Passdena, was named by the court as foreman of the new jury and Aifred T. Brant, Owensmouth, was selected by the jury as its secretary.

Piftcen members of the jury were chosen last Tuesday and yesterday Judge Keetch selected four more, completing the number. The jury of inincteen was then sworn in and the court read the charge, stressing necessaity for secrecy as to matters considered. Of ten ordered to appear yesterday only eight appeared, two not having been served.

As soon as the judge read the charge, Chief Deputy District Attorney Davis accompanied the members to the grand-jury room and advised them further regarding their duties with relation to the District Attorney's office. It was announced that the new inquisitorial body will begin its work next Tuesday.

Railroads Ask Commission for Dismissal

City Urges Adherence to Former Rulings

PROPER CONCLUSION

"It is a conclusion which was not merely proper and necessary in the light of the record originally made in these proceedings but which has been abundantly confirmed by the more recent testimony herein.

"The city does not appear before this commission in these proceedings as the advocate of any special interest. The city is not in the position of railroad officers trying to justify and defend positions takem by them in the light of purely selfah railroad interests nor yet in the position of real estate operators seeking to make money for themselves from the sale of land for a depot site.

"The city is a responsible public authority which must view problems of his character from the point of view of the public interest, present and future, and which in its relation with other public authorities must at all times seek to be helpful."

ASK DISMISSAL

The Carriers' Plan," says the railroads' brief, "is the only one before the commission which in addition to solving the problem of grade-crossing elimination on the steam line also presents an emclent and economical method of eliminating the grade crossings of the interurban cars of the Pacific Electric Railway."
City Attorney Stephens, Dep. City
Atty, Bryan and Special Counsel Thelen will submit the city's brief and Attorneys Karr, Camp, Raisted and Durbrow will submit the railroads'

AIR DINERS

Airplanes equipped with complete dining service are now being planned for Southern California airways. A test flight in a Fokker plane was made yesterday afternoon by Ben L. Frank, manager of the Ambassador, accompanied by his secretary. Miss Erma Mulchrome.

The problem of what passengers would most like to eat in the air occupied Mr. Frank's attention. The meau is being planned for the giant Fokker plane of the Air Craft Corporation, which is coming to Southerr California and also for the large passenger planes which soon will be plying between Los Angeles and Salt take City in the service of the Western Air Express, which carries the United States mails.

"It needs a little organization," said Mr. Frank yesterday, "to keep a small enough kitchen in an airplane to be sure of serving good and varied meals to each passenger. It won't be long before the planes will be serving 'the time-honored ham and 'eggs, steaks, lamb chops, fruit, toast, coffee, pie, French pastry and ice cream."

Campaign Chief Announced for Bar Association

Following a dinner at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, the board of trustees of the Los Angeles Bar Association made public the announcement last night that Claude McFadden of the City Attorney's office has been appointed campaign menager of the legal organization, John W. Kemp, head of the association's judiciary association, will co-operate with McFadden, it was added, with Miss Roselind Bates serving as publicity director.

The Supreme Court candidacies of Judges Burnell, Keeler, Westover, Hollzer and Reuben Schmidt have been indorsed by two plebiscites of the bar association.
